Dissemination Activities

All partners created the corner of the project in order to enhance its visibility among students, teachers and parents. Also, all partners worked hard to increase the visibility and interest of the partner schools at local and national level.

Except for the no to violence days and the ERASMUS days, the Greek partner created videos for antibullying campaigns within its school, held three events throughout the implementation of the project with main focus on building healthy relationships, promoting coexistence, friendship and inclusion. These events were attended by parents, students and teachers of other schools. The Greek partner also participated in events such as “Mila tora (speak now)”, organized by “To Chamogelo tou paidiou (the child’s smile)”, Bravoschools, and Hackathon 2021, organized by the 14th Panhellenic Adolescent Medicine/Health Conference. In the Hackathon 2021, the Greek partner participated in the contest with the presentation “Mental resilience in the time of the pandemic” winning the 1st prize. It also presented to all its students a theatrical action on the subject of school violence, which is an adaptation of the book "The Loser" by Eleni Tasopoulou. The project’s outcomes were also presented to all our students and twice to the final events organized by the network of schools “SIMA-AEP”, consisting of schools of two Directorates of the Secondary Education in Athens. The Greek school’s webpage and facebook page hosted often the outcomes and the activities of the project. Also, the local press “H Foni tou Geraka” published the activities and mobilities of our project.

The Turkish partner has organized a drawing competition themed “violence” among their students. The students prepared a power point presentation “No to Violence against Children” and shared this with school teachers, students and parents via school WhatsApp groups. Students have joined a local radio broadcast to introduce our project. Also, they have introduced the Project through a YouTube channel “Anamur Soruyor”. They have organized meetings for teachers, students and parents to make them more aware of combating violence, cyberbullying and anger management.

The Italian partner has participated in numerous regional competitions on this theme and organized a local conference with the participation of the mayor, Guarantor for childhood and adolescence of the Campania Region, the commander of the Carabinieri of Casalnuovo di Napoli giving their contribution in presence and experience, during which bullying and cyberbullying and solutions to combat it were discussed. For this occasion, the students prepared drawings and presented our project.

The Lithuanian partner organized “No to violence” days, Erasmus days. Also "Smiling Faces" day where students and teachers showed their smiles wearing face masks and then made a video for the exhibition. Besides, students created videos, presentations, posters for antibullying campaigns. Also, activities were organized about friendship, empathy, emotion regulation. Project’s participants organized events for students, teachers and parents about their activities in short-term exchanges of groups of pupils and short-term joint staff training event. News about the project's activities were published on the school's website, school's Facebook page and Erasmus+ educational community group. Also, local press “Santarvė” published article and representatives of the municipality shared about Learning and teaching activity in Lithuania on the Māžeikiai municipality website.

Romanian partners have organized a drawing competition among the students from 3rd to 7th grades except for the common activities during the project. The theme of the drawing competition was” Be a friend, not a bully!”. A few students from the 8th grade prepared a PowerPoint and presented it during a meeting to which teachers, parents, and students were invited.

They also organized a meeting with representatives from the cyberbullying department of the Oradea Municipal Police. At this meeting, secondary school students learned how they can avoid being bullied online and what they should do if they notice they are being bullied online.

In the corner dedicated to the project, they created an exhibition with photos from the mobilities carried out during the project.

Also, they have organized a final dissemination of the project which was attended by guests of the local authorities, of the School Inspectorate in Bihor County, teachers from other schools as well as parents of the school's students.
